REFERENCES

Most Bible references in this paper were taken from the King James Version of the Bible. Other versions were used where it would help elucidate the meaning of the Greek text. The use of a translation does not mean that the writer endorses the translation as a whole. The following abbreviations have been used:

KJV (Authorized King James Version, 1611)
RV (Revised Version, 1881)
RSV (Revised Standard Version, 1952)
NASV (New American Standard Version, 1960)

God's Gift of Tongues

8 Joseph Dillow, Speaking in Tongues—Seven Crucial Questions (Grand Rapids: Zondervan, 1975), pp. 119-133. Dillow devotes 76 pages to answer the question, “Did the gift of tongues pass from the Church?” (pp. 88-164)

12 Sellers, pp. 18-19.

14 Dillow, pp. 147-164.

15 Richard Chenevix Trench, *Synonyms of the
References

16 Arndt and Gingrich, p. 908.

19 George E. Gardiner, The Corinthian Catastrophe (Grand Rapids: Kregel, 1974), pp. 35-36. See also the excellent discussion by Dillow, pp. 26-34.

21 See Dillow, pp. 165-172.

24 This is Seller's conclusion, p. 7. On pages 1-7 Sellers gives 13 reasons showing that Biblical tongues were real languages. See also Robert H. Gundry, "Ecstatic Utterance (N.E.B.)?" Journal of Theological Studies, Vol. 17, 1966, pp. 299-307. Dr. Gundry shows that the tongues speech of both Acts 2 and 1 Corinthians 12-14 can refer only to known languages spoken here on earth.
BIBLIOGRAPHY

God’s Gift of Tongues

